READ THIS PAGE BEFORE ORDERING

---

An extra good season gives large bulbs. I guarantee them true to name.

Send in orders early. All orders booked and sent out in rotation.

Send money with order and write name and address plainly. Package can be insured for 5 cents extra.

Always use same initials. Stamps accepted for any amount under one dollar.

When you receive your box of bulbs do not open them and then set them down to dry up. If not ready to plant, place bulbs at once in a box of damp (not wet) sand or earth and they will be nicely started when you are ready.

Always give second choice.

Twelve, my selections, $1.00.

Twelve, higher priced ones, $2.00.

If large bulbs are wanted, send postage with order.

Blooms in season, 25c and 50c per bunch, according to price of bulbs.

Gardens open to visitors any day except Sunday.

I positively will not take orders or exhibit my flowers on Sunday.

Inside back cover for cultural directions.

CACTUS DAHLIAS

- ALABASTER—A splendid pure white, large and of graceful form. 35c.
- ARTHUR PICKARD—Flowers of finest form, with long, evenly-incurving petals. The color a light salmon. 15c.
- AUBURN BEAUTY—A very pleasing shade of bronze, bright yellow in the center; a favorite. 15c.
- AURORA—Cream, shaded pink, tip white, lovely. 15c.
- BALLET GIRL—A very large flower, and remarkably free blooming on good stems. The ground color is orange, often tipped and marked with white; a flower well worth a place in any garden. 35c.
- CANDEUR—Splendid pure white. 15c.
- CENTURION—Color, a rich glowing crimson scarlet; flowers composed of long narrow petals, with incurve, twist and interlace. 25c.
- CHEVREFEUILLE—A lovely pink, with white center; the petals are beautifully pointed; an early bloomer. 15c.
- COMET—Silvery pink, spotted red, extra fine. 15c.
- COUNTESS LONSDALE—Amber and pink, good. 15c.
- CRYSTAL—White in center, passing to a deep silvery pink, plant dwarf, flowers large and beautiful. 25c.
- DECISION—A splendid exhibition dahlia, with long, narrow incurved petals, deep yellow at center, shading to a golden bronze; a fine grower. 25c.
- DOROTHY DURNBAUGH—A most attractive shade of deep rich pink; flowers are immense in size; of fine form and habit, with strong stems that stand up well; one of the best cactus dahlias in cultivation, fine for cutting. 50c.
- E. F. HAWES—The stems of this cactus are large and hard as a cane, the color is a pretty shade of clear salmon pink. 25c.
- ETENDARD DE LYON—The petals are broad, curled and wavy and form a flower fully six inches across. It is a rich carmine rose, with brilliant suffusion hard to describe. 35c.
- FEARLESS—One of the largest dahlias, if not the largest. The petals are very long, slightly incurved and as narrow as needles. Color, bright orange-scarlet. 50c.
- GLADYS BATES—A huge cut flower of perfect form with incurved petals. Color, tan with rose reverse. A dahlia of real merit. 50c.

- GEN. BULLER—Maroon, tip white. 15c.
- INDOMITABLE—The petals narrow and long, much incurved, mauve lilac, lighter tips. 15c.
- LOLITA VELASCO—One of the finest large white cactus. Very fine stems, and flowers are held well above the foliage. 35c.
- LORNA DOONE—Good, robust, not too tall grower, the flower stems being quite erect. Color, yellow at base, but the greater part of petals is a pinkish shade, yet decidedly tinged with carmine, as to make it quite distinct. 35c.
- MANIFESTO—Large white cactus, good bloomer. 25c.
- MELODY—Color, clear yellow for half the length of petals, the rest being pure white. Flowers of first rate size, typical cactus form and great depth. Good strong stems. 25c.
- MONARCH—A good, large red, incurved. 15c.
- MRS. J. EMBERSON—Pale lemon, speckled with pink. 15c.
- MRS. T. W. WILLIS—Petals long and very pointed, white base, rosy lilac tips, very beautiful. 25c.
- OLD NORTH STATE—A sport from Mrs. Emberson. Pretty lemon yellow, edged with pink, large flowers, good bloomer. 15c.
- OLYMPIC—A grand flower, of a deep rich crimson color, and of massive proportions, and being exceptionally incurved, and of great depth as well. 50c.
- PATRIOT—Splendid erect habit, long strong stems, holding flowers up facing. Blooms are large and incurving and of a dark scarlet. 35c.
- PIERROT—An unique and striking novelty. The color being deep amber, shaded darker and tipped with pure white. The flowers are very large and habit good. 35c.
- RICHARD BOX—Clear light yellow; a strong feature of this variety is its grand flower stem, the blooms being held erect in spite of their great size and weight. 15c.
- RELIABLE—Yellow, brick-red and salmon, tips smoky tints, one of the most beautifully shaded dahlias. 15c.
- STANDARD BEARER—Scarlet, good. 15c.
- STRAHLEN KRONE—Crimson scarlet. 15c.
- SEQUOIA—A deep saffron yellow, petals long and incurved. 15c.
- THOS. PARKINS—Bright terra-cotta. 15c.

HYBRID CACTUS DAHLIAS

BROAD PETALS, LIKE A DECORATIVE, BUT VERY POPULAR

- BETTY AUSTIN—Color, rosy carmine, shading yellow at base and tips of petals. Flowers held well above the foliage on strong erect, yet slender stems. 25c.
- CIGARETTE—A most attractive color; pure orange tipped creamy white. Very full petalled large blooms carried erect on fine stems. A good and showy cut flower. 75c.
- COMPTESSA NADA—Shades of cream and tan, edges faintly flushed lavender. Petals beautifully curved. 35c.
- DADDY BUTTLER—Large hybrid cactus of rosy carmine. The reverse of petals a much lighter shade. Perfect stem and good cut flower. 50c.
- DORIS CLARK—A delicate pink, shading to white in the center; a splendid cut flower variety; the stems are slender and stiff and the flowers are produced in great numbers. 50c.
- EL GRANADA—This splendid new H. Cactus is all that the originator claimed for it. The color is entrancing, orange and gold. It is one of the very best. $1.00.
- ETHEL M.—Here is a very pretty combination of amarant pink and white center; nice built flower with long petals; one you will be proud of when you see it in your garden. 50c.
- FRANCIS LOBDELL—Mallow pink shading white in center, medium to large, form excellent, rather dwarf, free bloomer, recommended for garden effect. 75c.
- GLADYS SHERWOOD—A new pure white variety that is a real giant among dahlias. A vigorous grower and without doubt one of the best. 50c.
- GOLDEN GATE—A very large flower of a deep rich golden yellow, shaded with darker tones. 25c.
- GOLDEN WEST—Flowers large and full. The color, beautiful golden yellow with deep buff suffusion. Stems long and stiff. A very desirable cut flower. 25c.
- JEAN CHAZOT—Golden bronze suffused with nasturtium red. A large, brilliant beautiful flower, with long stiff stems. 35c.
- JUSTICE BAILEY—Color rich glowing pink. Large flowers on good stems. 25c.
- KALIF—A gigantic cactus dahlia of a pure scarlet, and held erect on very stiff stems. 35c.
- LA FAVORITA—Beautiful brilliant orange, shaded lighter at twisted tips. Perfect form, and useful for any purpose. 25c.

- LADY HELEN—This is a striking and beautiful pink, with veins of cream running through the petals. A very fine bloomer. 50c.
- LILLIAN G. TATE—An immense flower of soft yellow overlaid with salmon pink. Good bloomer. Strong stiff stems. Dark green foliage. 35c.
- MARIPOSA—True pink, with darker center suffused violet. Very large, full flowers with a perfect center. Continues good to the end of the season. One of the loveliest varieties to date. 75c.
- MASTER CARL—Very large, amber-lake. 15c.
- MOTHER—A fine white on erect stems which are well supplied with healthy green foliage. Bush sturdy. A continuous bloomer. 75c.
- MINAMOTA—A brilliant velvety cardinal-red with deeper shadings. Large flower and stems good. 35c.
- MRS. CHAS. TURNER—Very large yellow, hybrid cactus. 15c.
- MRS. E. L. LINDSEY—Scarlet and gold is the coloring of this giant dahlia, borne on long, stiff stems, and I want to say the formation is something wonderful. $1.00.
- MRS. EDNA SPENCER—A flower of delicate and exquisite shade of orchid pink. Very beautiful and of good formation and stems. 35c.
- NICHU—Large hybrid cactus of light sulphur yellow, stiff stem. Excellent cut flower. 75c.
- NIBELUNGENHORT—Another giant cactus, of beautifully curled and twisted petals. Color, old rose, with a golden apricot suffusion. 35c.
- RHEINISCHER FROHSINN—A very distinct variety. The flowers are large and of splendid form. The long incurving petals are white at base, but soon change to a luminous carmine rose. A very attractive flower. 25c.
- ROLLO BOY—Old gold shading to amber, large, fine form and stem, growth strong. Very satisfactory. $1.00.
- THE EAGLE—A novelty of sulphur yellow. A large flower with long, stiff stems. Good keeper and a very prolific bloomer. Florets slightly reflex. This dahlia does exceptionally well in a warm climate. 25c.
- TOM LUNDY—Dark, rich, velvety, crimson flowers immense in size; profuse bloomer; good stems. Very satisfactory. 35c.
- WODAN—Bold and large, but not coarse, flowers frequently seven inches across. Color, salmon rose, shading to old rose in the center. 25c.
- YELLOW KING—A very large Dutch hybrid cactus. Canary yellow, of good form and largest size. 35c.

DECORATIVE DAHLIAS

CULTURE AND KEEPING OF BULBS

Dahlias will grow in any kind of soil, except soil that is soured by water standing on it.

They like full sun best, but will grow and bloom in partial shade. In the extreme south it will be best to plant in partial shade. A lath shelter over them would help.

Deep planting helps, too, with a mulch of leaves or boards around them. Deep breaking of soil, either by plow or spade, keeps the dry weather from injuring them. Ordinary good garden soil, not too rich, is best. Some plant in poor soil and apply fertilizers and bone meal to top after flower buds begin to show.

If soil is very sandy, leaf mold is a good fertilizer; or if stiff clay, add sand or leached ashes to loosen it some.

Stable manure can be used if well rotted. If not well rotted, it may cause bulbs to rot, especially if it touches them.

The bulb should be laid down flat and covered four to six inches deep. Three feet apart gives best results, but I have planted two feet each way, and the pompons one foot each way. They will not bloom much if weeds and grass choke them. The ground should be stirred around them after hard rains and never allowed to bake and get hard. For Exhibition Flowers, leave one stalk to bulb and tie it to a good stake, set well in the ground. Trim out every other branch. For just a row across vegetable garden, grown for cut flowers, I would pinch out the top when four leaves have formed and let them make four branches. Then hoe dirt up around to these branches. They will not need staking.

Another way is: when plants get three or four feet high, just bend them all over one way, down on the ground. They will grow up at ends and bloom just as well and need no staking. When frost kills the tops, cut them off, lift the clumps with shovel or garden fork. Let dry one-half day in sun and store in a dry cellar, covered with dry sand or just dry dirt. They will keep in a warm closet, packed in boxes of dry dirt. Or they may be left in the ground, south of Virginia, if a litter of dirt is made over each place. (They would have to be taken up in spring to be divided.) They can be "holed-up," as we do potatoes sometimes.

Do not divide up the clumps until spring. The new sprout comes on lower part of old stem (not on tubers), so part of this old stalk must be left to each tuber. If they have been kept very dry and "eyes" don't show enough to divide in April, carry the clumps out and bury in ground for a week. Plant one tuber in a hill.
